Accounting Firms Score in Microsoft Inner Circle

Thursday, 12 July 2012 12:59

0 tweets

tweet

Accounting firms that have reselling organizations made one of their best showing in years in the Microsoft Dynamics Inner Circle. The group included Armanino McKenna, which has developed a strong track record in Microsoft awards.

The Inner Circle, announced that this week's Worldwide Partner Conference, encompasses the top resellers that handle Microsoft's Dynamics accounting software. Accounting firms that received the hour included McGladrey, Sikich and Wipfli. The Inner Circle includes both resellers and software developers that work in the Dynamics market. The 50 businesses selected are primarily the largest Dynamics organizations in terms of revenue and include businesses from all regions of the globe.

Armanino has seen the strongest growth in the midmarket reselling and consulting area of U.S.midmarket resellers. It had $28.7 million in revenue in that area in 2011, up 62 percent from $17.2 million in 2010. It was also a finalist for Microsoft Dynamics Marketplace Solution Excellence Partner of the Year and one of its won the 2012 Industry Excellence Award at the Microsoft Convergence conference, a user event, in March.